Mr. Torrington's Amateur Orchestra.

THE Organization which makes its first public appearance upon this occasion, is composed entirely of amateur musicians. About the commencement of the present year the orchestra was organized by the conductor, and since its inception the membership has been steadily growing, until the number of active members now on the roll reaches over fifty, and it is confidently expected that by next season the orchestra will be able to put over one hundred performers upon the platform.

Weekly rehearsals (Thursday evening), are held in the Philharmonic Hall, and it has been most gratifying to the management to note the large average attendance and the interest in the work undertaken. Of course, in its first season, an organization of this nature has to take up works which do not require any great amount of executive or artistic ability, though it is surprising what progress has been made, considering the short time the orchestra has been in existence.

It is the intention and aim of the conductor to use the orchestra as a means of developing the large resources of the Queen City, in the direction of instrumental music, and with that end in view the management will be glad to hear from any amateurs who would like to become members (communications to be addressed to the conductor or secretary), when all necessary information will be cheerfully afforded.

Next season it is intended that the work undertaken shall be of a more ambitious description, and if possible, a series of two or three orchestral concerts will be given, and it is hoped by this means the management will be able to put things upon a sound financial footing.

The cultivation of the amateur musical talent in our midst should be an object of the greatest interest to all public-spirited citizens, and it is hoped that the music-lovers of Toronto will not be slow to sustain the hands of Mr. Torrington and the management of the orchestra in the good work they have undertaken.

TORONTO'S

25,000

Young Men.

What is being done for them

To Ruin Them

there are, besides the theatres, pool and billard saloons, club rooms, and worse resorts, 307 drinking places, licensed by the city, with a confessed annual revenue of $92,600.

To Save and Elevate Them

The Young Men's Christian Association provides a safe and attractive resort, with varied facilities for their physical, intellectual, social and spiritual welfare.

FURNISHING NEW BUILDING.

AT a large and representative meeting of ladies of Toronto, held in the parlour, Shaftesbury Hall, September 22nd, it was unanimously agreed, "That the Christian ladies of the City furnish the new building." At this meeting officers were chosen as follows:—President, Mrs C. S. GZOWSKI, Jr.; Vice-President, Mrs. JOHN HARVIE; Treasurer, Mrs. FINCH; Secretary, Miss L. HODGSON.

The work of raising $10,000, the amount required, was at once commenced; the City was divided into 98 districts, and lady collectors appointed.

The response to the appeal has not come up to the expectation of the ladies, and, to aid them in their laudable work, Mr. F. H. TORRINGTON and the many friends who are to entertain us this evening, kindly give their services gratuitously, so that the money realized to-night will go to augment the amount the ladies have already on hand.

It is earnestly hoped that all who desire to contribute, and have not yet been called upon, will send their contributions to Mrs. FINCH, 72 Gerrard Street East.

PRIVILEGES OFFERED TO YOUNG MEN

BY THE TORONTO YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

THE new building, which will be formally opened early in September, will be one of the most comfortable, pleasant, and home-like on the Continent, and the various attractions and healthful recreations which are offered (at a merely nominal fee) will, we trust, induce a large number of young men to become members.

Young Men's Bible Class, Sunday, 3 p.m.; Monday, 8 p.m.

Workers' Training Class, Thursday, 8 p,m.

Young Men's Meetings, Saturday, 8 p,m.; Sunday, 8.30 p.m.

Reading and Conversation Rooms, supplied with the leading newspapers, magazines, and periodicals of the day.

Lectures, Medical Talks, Musical Entertainments, and Receptions.

Gymnasium, Running Track, Bowling Alley, Lawn Tennis, Swimming and other Baths.

Any Young Man of good character can become a Member by payment of Two Dollars annually. Five Dollars additional for Physical Department.

Application can be made to the General Secretary.

DESCRIPTION

OF THE

Young Men's Christian Association Building.

THE building is on the south-east corner of Yonge and McGill Streets, having a frontage of 68 feet on Yonge Street, and 198 feet on McGill Street. The eastern portion of lot on McGill Street is 149 feet, thus forming an L shaped lot, and giving ample space for the Gymnasium wing to the south. The building is isolated from the surrounding properties, except on the south side for a distance of 100 feet from Yonge Street, thus giving light and air space around nearly all the buildiug. The main entrance, is on Yonge Street and the entrance to Association Hall on McGill Street. The Public Hall is easily distinguished on the outside, as being on the east of McGill Street tower entrance. Immediately west of this is the door to stairs leading to Lodge-rooms and Caretaker's apartments on the upper flat, which are thus kept separate from the Association rooms. The three large windows on ground floor west of this door are to the Lecture Room. The range of windows on middle floor from tower on McGill Street, and including all of Yonge Street front, are to the Association Parlors, Reading Room, Music Room, and Board Room. The entrance on the extreme east on McGill Street is to the Boys' Department, while adjoining it is the rear exit to Public Hall. Both of the entrances to the Hall are covered by porticos. The ground floor story of Yonge Street front is Ohio stone, the large arches being introduced over the shops to obviate the usual store appearance. The rest of the building is red brick, with dark joints and cut stone trimmings. The main cornices, etc., are galvanized iron, painted and sanded to represent stone. The mansard roofs are slated. The roof of Public Hall and Gymnasium are painted iron.

GROUND FLOOR.

Entering from Yonge Street is the Vestibule, 14 feet square, with ornamental brick walls and wood ceiling. The Entrance Hall including staircase is 29 x 26 feet. The Main Staircase is 7 feet wide. Facing you as you enter is the door to the Lecture or Meeting Room, which room is 34 x 45 feet, and seated for 270 persons. The rest of Yonge Street front is taken up with three shops, two of which have been already rented.

From Entrance Hall to rear of building is a passage 10 feet wide, which will be used as the Association entrance to Public Hall. The McGill Street entrance will be used when hall is rented.

The Public Hall (to be known as Association Hall) is 65 x 80 feet, with semi-elliptical ends and arched ceiling. It will have a gallery around three sides, and be seated for about 1,300 persons. The Platform is at east end, with a recess for organ behind it. The Gymnasium is on a level with ground floor, and is 50 x 70 feet, having a narrow gallery or running track all around it, with stair to give access to it; while over this, at one end, is the Visitors' Gallery. The stair gives access to the dressing rooms and bath rooms in basement.

BASEMENT.

Under Gymnasium is the dressing room and locker space, 36½ x 68 feet. In the corner are the Gymnasium Closets, in a separate room. Adjoining dressing room is the Bowling Alley. Under the main building is the Bathing Department, containing a swimming bath 14 x 50 feet; a shower bath room 12 x 11 feet; and four private bath rooms, besides wash basins. Immediately adjoining, but screened off from gymnasium portion, are two bath rooms for the use of members who do not hold gymnasium tickets.

FIRST FLOOR.

Passing up the main stair from Entrance Hall to first floor, we reach the Secretary's Public Office which faces the stair, and the large Reception Hall. Opening off this office is the Coat Room, and adjoining is the Private Office. Across the Hall is the Board Room. Entering off the Reception Hall by archways or large doors are the Music Room 23 x 14 feet, having a balcony from it over front entrance; the Reading Room 30 x 34 feet, the General Parlor 28 x 34½ feet, and the Bible Parlor, 22 x 34½ feet. Opening off this last is a Ladies' Lavatory. The members' entrance to Gymnasium Department is by a gate which is controlled by a lever from Secretary's office. A dumb waiter runs from top to bottom of building, connecting to kitchen on top flat.

The general finish of internal woodwork is clear pine, with varnish finish.

The plumbing arrangements will be of the best.

The building will be heated by steam, partly indirect and partly direct.

Ample provision will be made for both lighting and ventilation.
